Get Safe Online Back To Basics

This month Get Safe Online's campaign is 'Back to Basics' - providing tips and advice on how to stay safe online. Attached is a useful leaflet providing tips and advice directly from our team of experts.

If you'd like to learn more we'd also like to invite you to join an exclusive webinar that is taking place this Thursday 15th October at 11am to raise awareness of the risks of going online and what you can do to protect yourself.

Our CEO and leading expert Tony Neate will be joined by online safety experts from the City of London Police, Microsoft and the Foreign, Commonwealth & Development Office. It will be led by award winning journalist Linda McAuley - so will be engaging and helpful.

We'd love to see you there and if it's of interest the Zoom sign up page can be found here: https://us02web.zoom.us/webinar/register/WN_4O-wb9oTQFGIWWsKB8V7Vg

You'll have the opportunity to put your questions to the panel as well as hear from a university lecturer who was conned out of £25,000 of his savings.

We hope to see you there.

Many thanks
